PREFACE.

UNTIL recently nothing had been published concerning John Hill¹ of Dorchester, Mass., in 1633 and his descendants, except a few meagre, incorrect and incomplete accounts of certain branches in works like the "History of Sherborn and Holliston," the "History of Douglas," and the "History of Bridgewater." In 1898, Mr. Lew C. Hill of Boston, a descendant of John¹ Hill of Dorchester, compiled, from the above-mentioned works and other sources, an account of his branch of the family, together with ancestral lines of various other families from which he is descended, and had typewritten a small edition of the same for private distribution. Mr. Hill being desirous of having published an accurate and complete account, derived from original records, of John¹ Hill and five generations of his descendants, engaged the writer to compile the genealogy which was edited and published by the New-England Historic-Genealogical Society in 1904, in the April and July numbers of the REGISTER. This genealogy has been reprinted and forms the first part of this volume.

In addition, Mr. Hill desired to have traced the ancestral lines in the various other families from which he and his wife descend, and the results form the second and third parts of this work.

Heretofore nothing has appeared in print in regard to the English ancestry of John¹ Hill of Dorchester. The fourth part of this volume is devoted to data, which the writer has collected from various printed works, in relation to a Hill family of Somersetshire, England, with which our John¹ Hill of Dorchester, Mass., may have been connected.

Except in the account of the Hill family in England, all the other material in this volume has been compiled from original records only, and every effort has been made to attain as accurate results as are possible in work of this nature.

PART I.

JOHN HILL OF DORCHESTER, MASS., AND HIS DESCENDANTS.

1. JOHN¹ HILL is first mentioned in the Dorchester Records as follows: "Jan. 6, 1633-4. It is agreed that the great lotts from Mr. Rosciter's to John Hills lott tow[ard] Naponset in breadth and eight score in length shall be forthwith enclosed by good sufficient Pale," etc. He was born probably about 1602, and was in Dorchester, and a land holder there, as early as 1633. Search for his English ancestry is now being made, and results, if any, will be published later.

There are reasons for believing that he came from the vicinity of Chard, in Somersetshire, England, about eight miles north of Lyme Regis. The Visitation of Somersetshire in 1623 gives the pedigree of a Hill family, of Poundstord, in which a John⁴ Hill is mentioned as the tenth and youngest son of William³ of Poundstord (Roger,² *William*¹). This John⁴ Hill was born circa 1571, had a son John,⁵ yeoman, living in Chaffcombe, a parish three miles east of Chard, of age but unmarried in 1628, but who had removed from there before 1633.

Dorchester records show that John¹ Hill had land granted on Feb. 18, 1636, Jan. 2, 1637-8, and March 18, 1638. There is no evidence that he was a member of the church, and the style of his will is totally different from that in vogue among the religious Puritan colonists. Not having been a church member he could not have been a freeman; and there is no record of his having held any public offices. It has been commonly stated that John Hill of Dorchester was a blacksmith, but nothing appears to substantiate this assertion, and the inventory of his estate indicates that he was a farmer.* His residence, after 1644, was in that part of Dorchester called Uneaty, and later set off as Milton. On Feb. 14, 1733-4, representatives of all his children who had issue sold out their interests in his rights in the undivided lands in Stoughton. (Suffolk Co. Deeds.) "John Hill of the Great Lotts Departed out of this Life the 31st Day of May 1664." His will, made 11 Apr., 1660, mentions eldest son John Hill, son Samuel, who had been helpful to him in his infirm days, daughter Mary who had received her portion, and friends Thomas Tilestone and John Minot. The bulk of his estate was left to wife Frances "for her maintenance and for the bringing up of my children"; at her death the property was to be divided among the nine youngest children, or such of them as survive. Inventory mentions horses, cattle, swine, crops, and "husbandry tool";

* The writer is of the opinion that John Hill of Plymouth, in 1630, was identical with John Hill, blacksmith, of Boston, who was admitted to the church there in July, 1641, became freeman May 18, 1642, joined the Artillery Co. in 1643, and died July 21, 1646, leaving a widow Margaret.

There was another John Hill early in Boston, a member of the church, admitted freeman May 6, 1646, and joined the Artillery Co. in 1647. It has been proved that William Hill of Dorchester, in 1633, came from Lyme Regis, Dorsetshire, and that he was not a brother of John Hill of Dorchester.

value of estate £287. 1. 0. (Suffolk Co. Probate.) John Hill married, probably in England, about 1629, Frances ———, who was born about 1608, admitted to Dorchester Church about 1638, and survived him. On Feb. 13, 1667-8, the widow Hill was taxed on eighteen acres in the "great lotts"; but she died before 1680.

(Suffolk Co. Probate.) He was probably unmarried.

 - xiii. MERITABLE, bapt. Feb. 18, 1650-1; lived in Dorchester, where she "assented to government of the church," March 5, 1676-7; d. unmarried, March 5, 1679, her brother Samuel Hill being administrator. (Suffolk Co. Probate.)
2. JOHN² HILL (*John*¹) was born about 1630. In 1657 he joined a party who purchased from the Indians a large tract of land on the then frontier beyond Medfield, where they settled and which later became the town of Sherborn. Here he was active in the affairs of the new settlement, and improved a large farm on which he resided until his death, Jan. 23, 1717-18. His will, dated Dec. 10, 1717, mentions son-in-law James Adams and daughter Abigail his wife, to whom he had deeded, Feb. 18, 1712-13, one-half of his homestead; eldest son Samuel Hill; sons Ebenezer, John and Eleazer Hill; heirs of daughter Abigail Leland; daughter Mary Ellis; heirs of daughter Hannah; heir of daughter Sarah. Executors, son Samuel Hill and Ebenezer Bullard, his wife's son. (Middlesex

3. SAMUEL² HILL (*John*¹) is stated, in Dorchester Records, to have been born in 1640, but his brother Jonathan² Hill was baptized in July of that year, and the church records also state that Samuel² Hill was baptized in 1638, so he was probably born in the latter year. His residence was Dorchester, except that he lived for a short time, about 1700-1703, on Spectacle Island in Boston harbor. (Suffolk Co. Deeds.) In deeds he is styled husbandman, and he appears to have been in poor circumstances most of his life, as there are several records of assistance given him by the town. He died Jan. 12, 1708-9, intestate; his son-in-law Charles Redman was appointed administrator, in 1717. The names of heirs are not given. (Suffolk Co. Probate.) He married, about 1667, Martha ———, who died in Dorchester, Sept. 13, 1715.

Children, recorded in Dorchester:

- i. MARTHA,³ b. Dec. 20, 1667; m. Feb. 10, 1688-9, Charles Redman of Milton and Stoughton, who was b. Aug. 16, 1666. Seven children.

- iii. THANKFUL, b. Jan. 31, 1671-2; m. Feb. 10, 1688-9, Thomas Lamb of Dorchester. One child is recorded there, after which their names disappear from Dorchester records, and they perhaps removed to the vicinity of Stonington, Conn.
- iv. MARY, b. Aug. 31, 1674; d. Nov. 15, 1676.
- v. SAMUEL, b. Sept. 12, 1676; d. Sept. 19, 1676.
- vi. ISRAEL, b. July 11, 1679; bapt. and admitted to Dorchester church, Feb. 22, 1701-2; the same year, was crippled by an accident (Church Records); resided in Dorchester until his death, Dec. 5, 1742; probably unmarried.
11. vii. JOSIAH, b. Jan. 1, 1681-2.
12. viii. GEORGE (perhaps).
13. ix. THOMAS, b. June 8, 1687.

4. JONATHAN² HILL (*John*¹), baptized in Dorchester, July 12, 1640, assented to the government of Dorchester church, Mar. 5, 1676-7. The Dorchester records state that in 1668 he received £1. 7. 5 for military service at the "Castle." Apr. 20, 1669, he and others were warned by the selectmen "in regard to their orderly walking and submitting to seemly government." He moved to Bridgewater about 1678, where he afterwards resided. In deeds he is called tailor. On Feb. 2, 1708-9, Jonathan Hill, Sr., of Bridgewater, with consent of his wife Mary, conveyed to his son Nathaniel Hill, for one hundred pounds, all his real estate in Bridgewater, reserving for himself and his wife the right to live in his "now dwelling house" for life. On the same day he conveyed, for forty pounds, to his son Jonathan Hill, Jr., of Bridgewater, his interest in Twelve Men's Purchase in Middleboro', and his rights in any undivided lands in Dorchester. (Plymouth Co. Deeds.) This is the last record of him that appears, and he probably died within a few years thereafter. He married Mary ———, who was dismissed from the Dorchester church to the Bridgewater church, Nov. 7, 1686. She was living as late as Dec. 9, 1718, when she signed a release on a deed of her son Nathaniel Hill. (Plymouth Co. Deeds.)

Children :

14. i. NATHANIEL,³ b. in Dorchester, May 7, 1676.
 ii. JONATHAN, b. about 1679; lived in Bridgewater. On Aug. 10, 1711, Jonathan Hill, of Bridgewater, conveyed to Ebenezer Hill, of the same place, his one-twelfth part of land in Middleboro' in Twelve Men's Purchase, which land he obtained by deed from his father. (Plymouth Co. Deeds.) He probably never married, as no record appears of any family. In 1734, when the descendants of John¹ Hill disposed of his rights in undivided lands in Dorchester, David⁴ Hill (Nathaniel,³ Jonathan,² *John*¹) signed as the representative of Jonathan² Hill.
 iii. MARY, b. about 1682; m. June 19, 1702, Elnathan Bassett of Bridgewater. One child.
 iv. BETHIA, probably d. unmarried.
5. EBENEZER² HILL (*John*¹), born in Dorchester, about 1644, lived there until about 1682, when he settled in Bridgewater. Dec. 19, 1675, he fought in Capt. Johnson's Co. in the great battle at the Narragansett Swamp Fort. In deeds he is called husbandman. He married first, about 1683, Ruth, daughter of Guido and Elizabeth Bailey of Bridgewater. She was living Jan. 12, 1687-8, when her parents conveyed land to her and her husband, but she died soon. (Plymouth Co. Deeds.) He married second, about 1692, Sarah ———, who survived him. On Nov. 22, 1695, Ebenezer Hill, "for love to my present wife Sarah Hill," conveyed land in Bridgewater in trust to Dea. Henry Hodges and John Lincoln, Sr., of Taunton, for the use of said wife during life, and then to belong to her children which she had by him. (Plymouth Co. Deeds.) Ebenezer² Hill died in the spring of 1696; and his widow Sarah was appointed administrator, July 8, 1696.

Children by first wife, recorded in Bridgewater :

- i. RUTH,³ b. Feb. 26, 1684-5; m. Jan. 23, 1703-4, James Hogg of Taunton (North Purchase), later Norton. In 1716, James Hogg and Ruth his wife released to David Ames of Bridgewater any claims in a meadow in Bridgewater conveyed to said Ames by "John Hill youngest son of our father Ebenezer Hill late of Bridgewater deceased." (Plymouth Co. Deeds.)

15. ii. EBENEZER, b. Nov. 9, 1686.

Child by second wife :

16. iii. JOHN,³ b. about 1693.

6. SAMUEL³ HILL (John,² *John*¹), born about 1654, was a husbandman, and settled on a farm in that part of Medfield later set off as Medway, where he was Deacon of the church for several years, until his death Mar. 24, 1723. Dying intestate, his estate was divided among all his children, the records of the Suffolk Co. Probate Court naming sons Samuel, Ephraim and Jonathan; and daughters, Sarah wife of Peter Adams, Hannah wife of Thomas Harding, Mary, Dorothy wife of Jeremiah Hall, Lydia, and Rachel. He married, Nov. 4, 1679, Hannah, born Oct. 8, 1660, daughter of Benjamin and Mary Twitchell of Sherborn.

 vi. HANNAH, b. Mar. 21, 1692-3; m. Mar. 11, 1715-16, Dea. Thomas Harding of Medway, who was b. Dec. 7, 1692, and d. Oct. 15, 1754. She d. Sept. 15, 1739. Six children.
 vii. MARY, b. July 15, 1696; living unmarried in 1724.
 viii. DOROTHY, b. July 13, 1698; m. Jan. 31, 1720-21, Jeremiah Hall of Wrentham, who was b. in Rehoboth, Mar. 11, 1686-7; later settled in Keene, N. H.

7. EBENEZER³ HILL (John,² *John*¹), born about 1656, resided in that part of Sherborn set off in 1724 as Holliston, where he was Selectman in 1724 and 1725, and died in the autumn of 1734. In his will, dated May 7, 1731, he calls himself husbandman; mentions wife Mary; sons Ebenezer, David and Joseph; grandson Job Hill son of son Ebenezer; and daughters Mary, Lydia, Judith and Hannah. The settlement of the estate shows that Mary was wife of Ebenezer Allen, Lydia wife of Samuel Daniel, Judith wife of Benjamin Bullard, and Hannah wife of Moses Hill. (Middlesex Co. Probate.) He married, in 1691, Mary, born about 1672, daughter of Joseph and Lydia (Rogers) White of Mendon. (See will of Joseph White, Suffolk Co. Probate.) His widow married second, Nov. 8, 1742, Capt. On June 29, 1738, the following children signed a settlement of his estate: John Hill, husbandman, of Sherborn, eldest son; Samuel Hill, housewright, of Sherborn; Aaron Hill, blacksmith; William Mann, Jr., and Hannah his wife; and Samuel Morse and Sarah his wife, all of Wrentham. He died intestate, and on Sept. 28, 1725, his sons Eleazer, Solomon, Nathaniel and Moses, and daughter Ruth wife of John Holbrook, signed an agreement of settlement. (Middlesex Co. Probate.) He married first, about 1688, Sarah, daughter of Thomas and Mary (Hill) Breck, of Sherborn, who was born about 1661, and died July 6, 1699. Oct. 18, 1703, Eleazer Hill was appointed guardian for his children Eleazer, Moses, Nathaniel, Ruth and Solomon, of their interests in the estate of their grandfather Thomas Breck. (Middlesex Co. Probate.) Eleazer³ Hill married second, Mar. 20, 1702-3, Rebecca (Clark) Richardson, born Aug. 16, 1660, daughter of Joseph and Alice (Pepper) Clark, and widow of John Richardson of Medfield. - 29. vi. MOSES, b. Mar. 30, 1699.

10. JOHN⁸ HILL (Samuel,² *John*¹), born Dec. 20, 1669, appears no further in Dorchester records, and it is uncertain whether he died young or removed elsewhere. In 1694, Jonathan² Hill and wife Mary, of Bridgewater, conveyed a meadow "unto John Hill, inhabitant of Bridgewater," whose identity is uncertain, but he may have been this John⁸ (*Samuel*²). About 1700, several Dorchester families removed to the vicinity of Stonington, Conn., and John³ Hill may be identical with a John Hill of Westerly, R. I., who had the following two children born there. (See Vital Records of R. I.)

Children :

30. i. JOHN,⁴ b. Oct. 3, 1699.
 ii. MARY, b. Feb. 27, 1701-2.
11. JOSIAH⁸ HILL (Samuel,² *John*¹), born Jan. 1, 1681-2, appears no further in Dorchester records. He was probably the Josiah Hill who joined the Milton church, June 1, 1701, and may be identical with the Josiah Hill of Westerly, R. I., who died there Jan. 27, 1754, and by wife Mary had born there the following children. (See Vital Records of R. I.)

Children :

- i. MARY,⁴ b. about 1710; m. July 26, 1732, Ebenezer Lamb.
 31. ii. SAMUEL, b. Dec. 11, 1712.
 —iii. JOSIAH, b. Oct. 28, 1714; nothing further known.
 iv. JOHN, b. Nov. 10, 1717; nothing further known.
 32. v. EBENEZER, b. Apr. 8, 1719.
12. GEORGE HILL⁸ (perhaps Samuel,² *John*¹). A George Hill appears in Rehoboth in 1708, being married on Dec. 31, of that year, to Susanna Grime. His parentage is uncertain; but the intimate connection of himself and his children with Attleboro', Wrentham, Medfield and Stoughton, where were located descendants of John¹ Hill, give reason to believe him to have been a member of this family. He lived in the part of Rehoboth which was later Attleboro', where he died in the spring of 1759. His will, dated Jan. 18, proved Apr. 14, 1759, mentions Sarah Hill, daughter of son John deceased; Anne Hill and Hannah Hill, daughters of son William deceased; daughter Elizabeth wife of Nathaniel Cobb; deceased daughter Susanna wife of Obediah Eddy; son James Hill; and daughter Ruth, and wife Susanna, to whom were given the homestead. PART II.

ANCESTRY OF

LEW CASS HILL, ESQ.

OF BOSTON, MASS.

ANCESTRY OF LEW CASS HILL.

HILL.

JOHN¹ HILL, the ancestor of this family, is first mentioned in the records of the settlement of Dorchester, Mass. The Dorchester Records (printed in the Fourth Report of the Boston Record Commissioners) contain the following references to him :—

Page 5. "Jan. 6, 1633-4. It is agreed that the great lotts from Mr. Rosciter's to John Hill's lott tow[ards] Naponset in bredth and eight score in length shall be forthwith enclosed by good, sufficient Pale," etc.

Page 15. "Goodman Hill" granted two acres of marsh, Feb. 18, 1635-6.

Page 28. John Hill granted one acre from the little neck toward the old harbor, Jan. 2, 1637-8.

Page 30. On Mar. 18, 1638, in dividing the neck lands and cow pasture, John Hill had 3 acres and 3 rods of the former, and 3 acres one quarter and 23 rods of the latter.

Page 58. In 1644 a "waye" was laid out from the house of John Hill in the "great lotts" to the house of Robert Pierce on Pine Neck.

Page 75. On Feb. 2, 1646-7, John Hill was one of the proprietors who signed an agreement appointing three Roxbury men arbitrators on lot boundaries.

Pages 104-106. On Feb. 7, 1641-2, John Hill was among the proprietors who transferred their rights in Thompson's Island to the town of Dorchester, the income therefrom to be forever used towards maintaining a free school in Dorchester.

From the above record first quoted, it is evident that John¹ Hill was in Dorchester as early as 1633, and judging from the vital records of his children and grandchildren he was married probably about 1629, so it is likely that he was born not far from 1603. Of his English ancestry nothing is yet positively known, but some data has been collected on this subject and appears in another chapter. There is no evidence that he was a member of the church, and not having been a church member he probably could not have been a freeman, and consequently there is no record of his having held any public offices. He appears to have been an inconspicuous, but respected and orderly, member of the community, there being no record against him of even the slightest offence to either church or state. It has been commonly stated that John¹ Hill of Dorchester was a blacksmith, but no records appear to substantiate this assertion, and the inventory of his estate indicates that he was a farmer.*

* Dr. Savage and other authorities have evidently confused the identity of several colonists of the name of John Hill. After much investigation the writer is of the opinion that the John Hill who was in Plymouth Colony as early as 1630, and soon went to the Mass. Bay Colony, was but a youth at that time and was identical with John Hill, blacksmith, of Boston, who was admitted to the church there in July, 1641, became freeman May 18, 1642, joined the Artillery Co. in 1643, was a proprietor of Lancaster in 1645, and died July 21, 1646, leaving a widow Margaret. There was

His residence after 1644 was in that part of Dorchester called Uncaty, and later set off as Milton. On Feb. 14, 1733-4, representatives of all his children who had issue sold out their interest in his rights in the undivided lands in Stoughton belonging to the proprietors of Dorchester. (See Suffolk Deeds, vol. 55, p. 94.)

"John Hill of the Great Lotts Departed out of this Life the 31st Day of May, 1664." His will, made April 11, 1660, mentions eldest son John Hill, son Samuel, who had been helpful to him in his infirm days, daughter Mary, who had received her portion, and friends Thomas Tilestone and John Minot. The bulk of his estate was left to wife Frances, "for her maintenance and for the bringing up of my children"; at her death the property was to be divided among the nine youngest children, or such of them as survive. Inventory mentions horses, cattle, swine, crops, and husbandry tools; value of estate £287-1-0, a fair estate for those times. (Suffolk Co. Probate.)

John¹ Hill married, probably in England, about 1629, Frances ———, who was born about 1608, admitted to Dorchester church about 1638, and survived him. On Feb. 13, 1667-8, the widow Hill was taxed on eighteen acres in the "greate lotts." (Dorchester Town Records, p. 147.) On Feb. 18, 1671-2, Hannah and Rebecca, "daughters of the widow Hill," were dismissed to Taunton church. (Dorchester Church Records, p. 11.) These records tend to show that it was a daughter, Frances Hill, who married Dec. 14, 1667, Jonas Austin, and not Frances, the widow of John¹ Hill, as stated in Pope's "Pioneers of Mass."

Children of John¹ and Frances Hill:

- i. John,² b. about 1630, probably in England.
- ii. FRANCES, b. about 1632; dismissed to the Taunton church, June 28, 1674; m. as his second wife, Dec. 14, 1667, Jonas Austin, Sr., of Taunton, who d. there July 30, 1683. She d. in Dorchester, Nov. 18, 1676. No children.

another John Hill early in Boston, and a member of the church there, who was probably the one admitted freeman May 6, 1646, and who joined the Artillery Co. in 1647; but these last two records may possibly pertain to John Hill¹ of Dorchester, although it cannot be proven, and the writer thinks it unlikely. There was a William Hill in Dorchester as early as 1633, who soon removed to Connecticut. He was a much more prominent man than John¹ Hill, and was often called "Mr. Hill" on the records, and was son of James Hill, merchant, of Lyme Regis, Dorset. (See "Waters' Gleanings," pages 70 and 1074.) He was not a brother of John¹ Hill of Dorchester, but they may have been distantly related.

- ix. RUTH, b. in Aug., 1614; m. July 19, 1664, Roger Willis; settled in Sudbury, where she d. Sept. 1, 1736, the last survivor of the children of John¹ Hill. Eight children.

- xiii. MERTABLE, bapt. Feb. 18, 1650-1; d. unmarried in Dorchester, Mar. 5, 1679.

JOHN² HILL (John¹) was born about 1630, and lived in Dorchester until about the time of his marriage. In 1657 he joined a party who purchased from the Indians a large tract of land on the then frontier beyond Medfield, on which they settled. This unincorporated region for several years was called Boggestow, and, though outside the limits of Medfield, the inhabitants attended church and paid taxes at Medfield, and the vital records of their families were recorded there. On Oct. 7, 1674, the settlement was incorporated into a town and called Sherborn. The frontier settlement often suffered severely from the depredations of the Indians, and two generations of inhabitants lived virtually in a state of warfare, being in constant peril of attack and often being compelled to flee to the block-houses on Indian raids.

John² Hill settled in the southerly part of Sherborn, on the west bank of the Charles river, and about half-a-mile north of Boggestow pond. Here he improved a large farm on which he resided until his death, Jan. 23, 1717-18. He was active in the affairs of the town, holding the offices of constable and selectman, and serving often on committees. His will, dated Dec. 10, 1717, mentions son-in-law James Adams and daughter Abigail, his wife, to whom he had deeded on Feb. 18, 1712-13, one-half of his homestead; eldest son Samuel Hill; sons Ebenezer, John, and Eleazer; heirs of daughter Abigail Leland; daughter Mary Ellis; heirs of daughter Hannah; heir of daughter Sarah. Executors, son Samuel Hill, and Eleazer Bullard, his wife's son. (Middlesex Co. Probate.)

John² Hill married first, about 1653, Hannah ———, whose parentage has not been discovered but who was a legatee of the will of Abraham Martin of Rehoboth, dated Sept. 7, 1667; and she died in Nov., 1690. John² Hill married second, about 1693, Elizabeth ———, the widow of Benjamin Bullard of Sherborn. She died Dec. 1, 1719.

EBENEZER³ HILL (John,² *John*¹), born about 1656, was taxed with his father in 1686 for the extinguishment of the Indian title to the territory of Sherborn. He settled on a farm in that part of Sherborn set off in 1724 as Holliston, where he was selectman in 1724 and 1725. In 1715 he drew a lot of 192½ acres in the first division of the town's grant in Douglass, and "his lot falling well, he appeared before the proprietors, and freely undertook to satisfy the committee and surveyor for a charge of £10 for surveying the same." He also participated in the division of 1730. In his will, dated May 7, 1731, he calls himself husbandman; mentions wife Mary; sons Ebenezer, David, and Joseph; grandson Job Hill, son of son Ebenezer; and daughters Mary, Lydia, Judith, and Hannah. The settlement of the estate shows that Mary was wife of Ebenezer Allen, Lydia wife of Samuel Daniel, Judith wife of Benjamin Bullard, and Hannah wife of her cousin Moses Hill. (Middlesex Co. Probate.) He died in the Autumn of 1734.

He married, in 1691, Mary,³ born about 1672, daughter of Capt. Joseph² and Lydia (Rogers) White of Mendon, who survived him and married second, Nov. 8, 1742, Capt. Seth Chapin of Mendon.

CLARK PELATIAH⁸ HILL (Arnold,⁷ Whitney,⁶ Isaac,⁵ David,⁴ Ebenezer,³ John,² John¹), born in Pittsford, Vt., Feb. 11, 1821, lived in Rutland Co., Vermont, for over forty years; in Hubbardton as a young man and then in Fair Haven, where from 1851 to 1862 he was proprietor of a general store. In 1862 he bought the bookstore of Aaron Hill in Saratoga Springs, N. Y., where he resided for a few years and carried on successfully the book and newspaper business; but not being favored with a rugged constitution and his health being badly broken, he was induced to sell out his business in 1865 and removed to Hammononton, N. J., where he bought a small fruit farm, hoping by this change to benefit his health. The venture was a success in this respect, and he resided there until his death in 1895, except for a period of about three years when he lived at Somer's Point, N. J. Mr. Hill was a man of exceptionally genial temperament, and his fund of anecdotes, which he took great enjoyment in relating, seemed to be unlimited. He was a natural salesman, and well understood how to secure the attention of anyone by means of an interesting joke or story. In early life he became known to his associates as "Deacon Hill," although he was not a church member, and this soubriquet clung to him wherever he lived.

He married, April 5, 1851, Eliza Maria, born Aug. 30, 1829, dan. of James and Tamsin (Lewis) Pratt of E. Poultney, Vt. She is living (1904) in Hammononton, N. J.

J., with his parents in 1865, when thirteen years of age. He attended the public schools there for three or four years, and then realizing the lack of opportunity for success in Hammononton, he left there and secured a position to learn the business in an iron foundry of which a relative was manager. Relinquishing this work after a few years he came to Boston, where he married. Here his wife's uncle, Mr. John L. Whiting, offered him a position in 1874 as book-keeper in his brush manufacturing establishment, which was accepted. The business increased rapidly to large proportions and Mr. Hill was admitted to the firm of John L. Whiting and Son in 1887. After the death of Mr. John L. Whiting in 1893 the company was incorporated, Mr. William S. Whiting becoming President and Treasurer, and Mr. Hill Secretary, in which positions they still continue. Their company is by far the largest in the world in their line of manufacture, and their goods have always held the highest reputation for excellence.

Mr. Hill has long been interested in antiquarian and genealogical matters, and in 1898 had type-written for private distribution a small edition of genealogical memoranda in relation to his ancestors, which he himself collected; and desiring that this matter should be amplified, he engaged the writer to compile and edit the present work.

Mr. Hill is a member of the New-England Historic Genealogical Society; of the Society of Colonial Wars; of the Sons of the Revolution; of the Sons of the American Revolution; of the Society of Mayflower Descendants; and of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Co. In the Masonic Orders he is affiliated with the Joseph Webb Lodge, F. A. M.; St. Paul's Chapter Royal Arch Masons; and the Boston Commandery Knights Templar. He is also a member of the Exchange Club; of the Boston Art Club; of the Paint and Oil Club of New England, of which he has been President and Secretary; of the Home Market Club, of which he is a member of the Executive Committee; and of the Mass. Charitable Mechanic Association. He is a member of the South Congregational Church of Boston, of which Rev. Edward Everett Hale, D.D., was long pastor. Mr. Hill's winter home is in Boston, and he has a summer residence at Swampscott, Mass.

He married in Boston, April 4, 1873, Clara Kendall,⁷ born Sept. 20, 1852, dau. of Charles Dustin⁶ and Mary Kendall (Whiting) Marcy of Hammonton and Boston.

SAWIN.

JOHN¹ SAWIN, ancestor of all that bear this name in America, was son of Robert Sawin of Boxford, Suffolk Co., England, and was in New England as early as 1650, and settled in Watertown, holding the office of selectman there in 1664 and 1672. He owned a "homestall" in Watertown village, and a large farm in that part of the town later set off as Weston: and besides farming he also followed the occupation of cordwainer. He died Sept. 2, 1690; and the manner of his decease is thus related in the first and only number of "Publick Occurrences," printed and issued at Boston, Sept. 25, 1690, the first newspaper ever issued in America. After this first number the sheet was suppressed by the authorities. "A very Tragical Accident happened at Water Towne, the beginning of this Month; an Olde man, that was of somewhat a Silent and Morose Temper, but one that had long Enjoyed the reputation of a Sober and Pious Man, having freshly buried his Wife, The Devil took advantage of the Melancholy which he thereupon fell into, his Wives discretion and Industry had long been the support of his Family, and he seemed hurried with an impertinent fear that he should now come to want before he dyed, though he had very careful relations to look after him who kept a strict eye upon him, least he should do himself any harm. But one evening escaping from them into the Cow-house, they there quickly followed him, found him hanging by a Rope, which they had used to tye their Calves withall, he was Dead with his feet near touching the Ground." He married, in 1652, Abigail,² baptized Aug. 20, 1626, daughter of George¹ and Elizabeth (Groome) Manning. She died in the Summer of 1690.

[7 ALEN.] He married first about 1500, Alice, daughter of John Toose of Taunton; he married second about 1510 Margery ———, who died in 1550. In her will, dated June 1, 1548, she mentions "the three children of my son William Hill"; children of Alexander Togwell; son-in-law John Whyte; Sir John Hill and his sister Joane; son Robert Hill; late husband Roger Hill. [Wells Reg.] [This Thomas Legg of Chard was also intimate with John and Walter Deane of Chard who came to New England, being a witness and overseer of the will of their father William Deane in 1634.]
- xiv. John, youngest child, but of age in 1592; b. probably about 1570.

ROGER⁴ HILL (William,³ Roger,² *William*¹), born about 1542, inherited Poundsford, where he lived until his death in 1609. His will, dated Dec. 22, 1606, mentions father William deceased; wife Mary; son Roger, son John under age; daughters Anne Shute, Frances Chaplain, and Elizabeth Sampson; eldest son William; brother Alexander Hill. - ix. JOHN, third son, b. about 1590. He settled first in Dorchester, Dorsetshire, England, and while living there became interested in the "Dorchester Company," of which Rev. John White was the most prominent promoter, and which sent parties of colonists to Cape Ann in 1624; to Salem in 1628, and to Dorchester, Mass., from 1630 to 1634. [See Pope Genealogy, page 13.] This connection may have influenced his younger cousin, John³ Hill of Chaffcombe (John,⁴ William,³ Roger,² William¹) to emigrate to N. E. He later became a merchant in London, where he d. in 1657. He m. about 1617, Sarah, dau. of John Greene, and widow of Thomas Davidge, and had issue. (For his will, see 41, P. C. C.)

JOHN⁴ HILL (William,³ Roger,² William¹) was the youngest child of the family, according to the Visitation, but was of age in 1592, so was born probably about 1570. By his father's will in 1592, he received £10, and from the will of his brother, Thomas⁴ Hill, it appears that this John⁴ Hill was married and had, at least, sons John⁵ and Jonathan⁵; but knowledge of his residence or marriage has not yet been secured.

Children:

- i. John,⁵ b. about 1600.
- ii. JONATHAN.

JOHN⁵ HILL (John,⁴ William,³ Roger,² William¹), born probably about 1600, was a yeoman, of age, and living in Chaffcombe, unmarried in 1628; but there is no mention of him in the Chaffcombe registers, and the writer has not been able to obtain any further information of him. He may have died unmarried or lived elsewhere in England; but the following circumstances favor a supposition that this John⁵ Hill of Chaffcombe may have been identical with John Hill, the emigrant to Dorchester, Mass.; both were born somewhere about 1600; the latter was married about 1630, the former was unmarried at the end of 1628, but had an inducement from his uncle's will to marry soon; both were yeoman or farmers; John⁵ of Chaffcombe disappears from there about the time that John the emigrant appears in New England; practically all of the colonists who came to Dorchester, Mass., before 1635 were from the three adjoining counties of Somerset, Dorset, and Devon; John⁵ Hill of Chaffcombe was certainly intimate with the Deames and Cogans, and doubtless with other families in Chard, who came to Dorchester, Mass.; two of the daughters of John¹ Hill of Dorchester, Mass., married into the Gray and Fisher families of Taunton, Mass., who were connected with the Cogans and other families of Chard; John⁵ Hill of Chaffcombe was an own, but poor, cousin of John⁵ Hill of Dorchester, England, who was interested in the "Dorchester Company," which sent parties of colonists to Dorchester, Mass., from 1630 to 1634.

Although the name "John Hill" is very common and found in all counties in England, and in many of the parishes, which fact makes identity difficult, still the above circumstances make it seem worth while to investigate in the above line for further information in attempting to trace the ancestry of John¹ Hill of Dorchester, Mass.
